Foreword

Students at Coahoma Jr. College and A.H.S. learn responsibility and self-dependence.

Their lives are molded by many hands - the hands of teachers, the hands of administrators, the hands of parents.

Some of our C.J.C. graduates are Senior College bound, some may terminate their education and descend on the business world, but no matter what the choice may be, their future lives are a direct result of their days at C.J.C. and knowledge gained from experiences here.

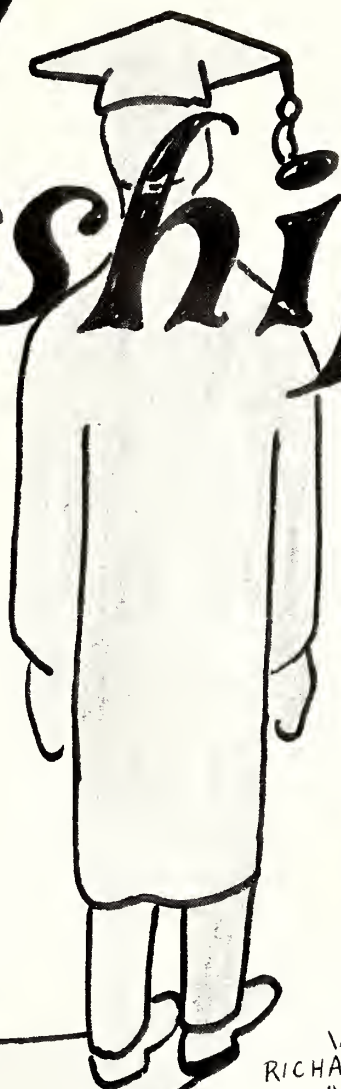

Our 1968 Coahoman will depict some of these experiences in "Learning For Leadership."

Dedication

In every school community there are a few men and women who, because of their attributes win the respect of their associates. We salute such a person in our 1968 Yearbook.

You have spent long hours each year helping us to make our Yearbook - "a thing of beauty" and also to meet our deadline. You have used your creative talent to decorate our campus; to advertise our school on posters, signs and bulletin boards. You have helped us materially by selling tickets and "policing" our games. You have inspired students to major in art and use their creative talents to beautify and brighten their dull drab environments. You have been a "real Coahoman."

You have set an example of true Christian manhood by serving as soldier, civic leader, church officer and just plain laborer "making an honest dollar"-

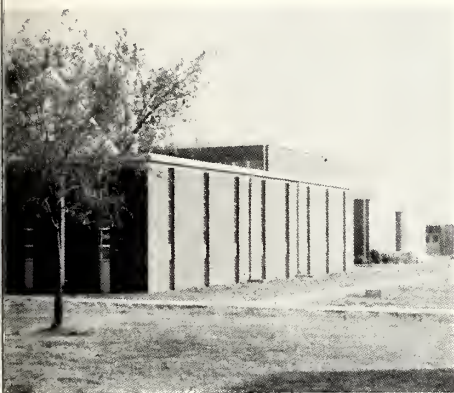

For all of these things and because we love you not only as teacher, but as a dear friend - We dedicate this 1968 Coahoman to you - Thomas W. Richardson, Jr., - "Artist par excellence."

Background for Learning

"It is the men and women, boys and girls that pour in and out all day that give the building a soul of dreams and thoughts and memories."

Dear Students, Alumni, and Friends:

The 1968 Coahoman chronicles another chapter in the continuously unfolding Coahoma story. It is the story of young learners acquiring knowledge, developing skills, molding attitudes, and sharing experiences which will enable them to influence the shape of events of today and tomorrow.

Because of its total dedication to the task of developing the leadership qualities of its students, Coahoma Junior College and AHS constantly seeks new and better ways to improve its program of instruction. New buildings, new equipment, new materials, new faces, new techniques, new ideas--these are the ingredients which, when blended with the best of the old, will facilitate and accelerate learning for leadership.

We congratulate the yearbook staff for the excellent work done in preparing this edition of the Coahoman.

"The person who admits you, takes your money, finds you a room, watches over your health, guides your career, finds you a job, lends you a book, prays with you, counsels with you, arranges your schedule, gives you excuses from class, sends you on your way, and later welcomes you back as an alumnus."

Dean's Message

I wish to congratulate the 1968 editorial staff of "The Coahoman" and extend my best wishes for a successful publication.

Your 1968 yearbook theme "Learning for Leadership" means, we believe that all Coahoma Junior College students are capable of becoming, growing, learning and developing. We believe also that for this goal to be attained the faculty must be committed to self examination and change, and the students and the faculty must be involved in the decision making processes that affect learning and leadership development. This type of interaction on the part of faculty and students provides opportunities for them to explore ideas, feelings, values and opinions, thereby helping students discover what is basic in the development of leaders in a democracy.

I am proud of the fact that you have shared in decision making while working on this publication, and that you have worked hard to make this a learning and leadership activity which has contributed to your personal development.

To the Members of the Annual Staff:

I congratulate you on putting together another beautiful edition of "The Coahoman".

To the Student Body:

Many of you have made me feel very proud of your academic achievements here at Coahoma Junior College this year. A total of 879 were enrolled during the Fall and Winter Quarters, and with the additional applications on hand for the Spring Quarter our total for the year will probably exceed 900.

Of the more than 500 Freshmen enrolled for the Fall Quarter, 84 made the Honor Roll, and of the more than 300 Sophomores, 40 made the Honor Roll. We are very proud of this academic achievement of these fine young people and hope that this is an incentive to greater accomplishments.

To those of you who are leaving us this year, may we see you again soon, as you return to visit and relive for a moment some of the "happiest days of your lives".

To The Editorial Staff and Students:

It is a pleasure to express my sincere gratitude and warm congratulations to the Coahoma Staff, Mrs. Zee Barron and all of the faculty advisors for a job well done in the publication of another edition of the "Coahoman."

We have witnessed the growth of the Annual since the first publication in 1957. The "Foreword" of the first edition stated "We are endeavoring in this book to show through pictures and words the growth of Coahoma." Each succeeding edition has contributed to this objective by the introduction of new pictures and different words.

Very few of the early leaders and teachers of this institution are still with us. However, the lofty ideals and fine qualities implanted in the lives of our early students are reflected by many of these students who comprise a large segment of our present teaching staff.

It is our hope that these young people will grasp the zeal for that which is good for our students and the institution. Zeal for the public good is the characteristic of a man of honor and a gentleman, and must take place of pleasures, profits, and all other private gratifications.

COAHOMA JUNIOR COLLEGE Manpower Development and Training Program

Because of the limited employment opportunities for the unskilled people in this immediate area, we are seeking to expose many of these people to a variety of occupational knowledge and to train them in specific skills so that they may become gainfully employed.

This occupational training will substantially help to decrease the number of longterm unemployment and low income families who without this training the prospects for employment would be severely handicapped because of the demand for skilled labor to operate the more powerful and up-to-date machinery that farm and industry are employing.

The program not only concentrates on academic achievements and skills required for a particular job, but is geared toward providing adequate training on the personal aspects relating to social and employer acceptance such as grooming, personal cleanliness, the employer-employee relationship, work habits and attitudes, and both personal and public relations which will have a direct bearing on their eventual obtaining and retaining employment.

MISS CHARMETTE 1967-1968

The Charmette Social Club, under the watchful eyes of Miss Dorothy Weeks, had its selection of Miss Charmette on Monday, November 13, 1967, in the college gym. There were four contestants competing for the title of Miss Charmette. They were as follows: Mary Ann Johnson, Addye Sue Smith, Annie Rose Hamp, and Stella L. Brown. They were selected by the senior girls on the basis of poise, charm, talent, personality, intelligence, and scholarship.

The judges gave each contestant so many points for each item.

Miss Mary A. Johnson was first runner up to Miss Charmette, Miss Stella Brown was second and Miss Annie Hamp was third runner up.

The vivacious Miss Addye Smith was crowned "Miss Charmette" of 1967-68. The title perfectly fits "Sue" because she is the epitome of charm.

pointmaking with 29 points on 12 field goals and five of five from the charity stripe. George Haynes, who did not start, had 22 points. Owen's George Willis, a 6-0 playmaker, tied Killium for high scoring honors with 29 points. Gregory Hill added 19 points to the Hornets total and played a brilliant defensive game.

Other double digit performers included Curley Bailey and Cliff Harris with 13 each for Coahoma. Reginald Brooks hit 13 and Jerry Dover 10 for Owen.

In the exciting final 13 minutes of the game, the score was tied 10 times and the lead exchanged hands seven times before Coahoma took their final lead on the shot by Haynes.

Brilliant shooting marked the game on both ends of the hardwood. At one point in the second half, nine straight baskets were scored without a miss. Most of them were in the 20 to 30 foot range.

The win brought the Tiger won-lost worksheet to 10-2 and dropped the Hornets to 11-4. Two of the Hornets have been administered by CJC.

CJC Tops Owen 91-90 In Jaycee Tilt Here

By LARRY McMILLEN
Press Register Sports Editor

The Coahoma Junior College Tigers pulled out a last second basketball victory over the Owen Junior College Hornets of Memphis here Monday night in a game that had everything that could be expected.

After leading most of the contest, the Tigers fought the Hornets down to the final gun with the win still in doubt until the horn sounded. The high scoring game was marked by excellent shooting and — despite the score — outstanding defensive play by both teams.

Pulled It Out

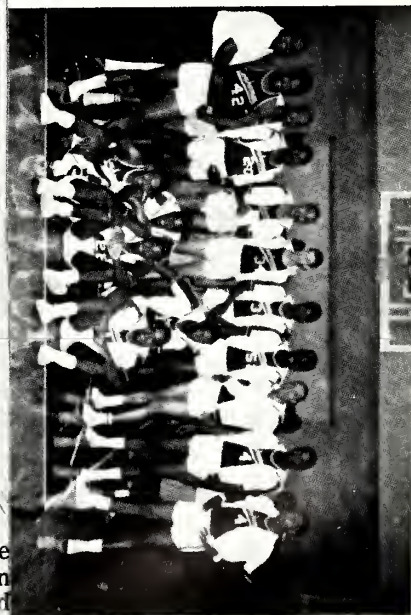

that held up only in the last seconds of the contest. Earnest Killum tied the score at 87-87 with 1:28 left in the game on a perfect jumpshot from the top of the key. After an Owen turnover, center George Haynes dropped in a twisting over-the-shoulder layup that gave CJC and 89-87 margin that was to set the stage for a confusing but exciting finish.

Killum gave the Tigers a 91-88 bulge with :30 on the clock, but the game was by no means over. Sharpshooting guard George Willis hit a fielder with :13 seconds left to bring the count to 91-90. Coahoma gained the surprise of everyone in the gymnasium — put the ball on the boards. Owen rebounded with two seconds on the clock and called time.

After the rest period, the Hornets put the ball in play from under the Coahoma offensive board and called time out again. The clock had ticked off only one second and the visitors were still alive. A desperation pass and shot from the corner fell short as the horn sounded ending the game.

BUREAU OF
FEDERAL CREDIT UNIONS

President, Board of Directors:

Congratulations on winning the Bureau's Thrift Honor Award for 1966.

Your credit union is one of about 600 (5 percent) of the 12,000 or so operating Federal credit unions throughout the country that qualified for this honor this year. You earned it because you were among the most successful Federal credit unions of your size in encouraging thrift among your medium and small savers (i.e., those with accounts of $1,000 or less).

It's getting to be a habit. James H. Black, a Detroit barber, may not bend his customer's ear with idle chatter, but he could easily sing his way into your heart.

Once again, the 30-year-old baritone captured top honors in the Rose Bowl Alumnae competition in Chatham, Ont. during the annual Kiwanis music festival which ended this month.

Two years ago, the gifted artist, who lives at 657 Blaine, won first-place certificates in three categories: German Lieder, oratorio and operatic.

Black's background is imbued with music.

Following his graduation from high school in his native Clarksdale, Miss., he was awarded a musical scholarship and was an honorary graduate of Coahoma Junior college where he played first trumpet.

JAMES BLACK

Black came to Detroit in 1956, attended Wayne State university where he was a member of the choir for one year under the direction of Harold Tallman.

He was, from 1959-62, a featured soloist with the Philharmonic chorus and the Great Lakes choir and has appeared with the Detroit Opera Theater and the Detroit Civic Opera company.

Not surprisingly, Black wants to be a concert singer and it may have been an understatement when two of the judges at the festival told him, "You are a fine artist."

Eight of the 23 graduates of C.J.C. and A.H.S. employed as instructors.
